

What We Offer

Programs and Resources: a listing of curricula and other resources developed by Extension designed to strengthen and enrich couple and marital relationships.

National Trainings/Workshops: upcoming training opportunities and access to resources shared during past trainings and workshops hosted and/or conducted by Extension professionals on relationship and marriage enrichment.

Fact Sheets and Educational Materials: a wide selection of research-based relationship and marriage enrichment educational fact sheets, newsletters and other on-line materials produced by Extension.

Journal Articles, Reports and Book Chapters: peer-reviewed publications and program evaluation reports authored by Extension professionals on various relationship and marriage enrichment topics.

Evaluation and Research: information about the efficacy of programs that prepare individuals and couples for healthy relationships, as well as access to tools to support the evaluation of relationship and marriage enrichment programs.

State Activities: linkages to collaborative efforts and programs within Extension that are emerging across the country.

Networking: access to colleagues across Extension who are also working to support healthy couple and marital relationships.

Non-Extension resources: a compilation of additional research and facts, education programs and materials, organizations and associations, etc.

Who Is NERMEN?

Our Vision

We envision a nation-wide outreach through Extension Specialists and Educators in partnership with agencies and organizations at the national, state, and community levels that supports individuals and couples preparing for, developing and enriching healthy relationships and healthy marriages.

Our Mission

Our mission is to provide research-based resources and promote partnerships to advance the knowledge and practice in relationship and marriage education.

NERMEN is involved in the identification and development of research and evidence based programs, coordinating and participating in state and national professional development opportunities, as well as documenting the efficacy of relationship and marriage enrichment programs.
